

Academic Integrity
Example Violation Rubric

Level Zero Violation – 0.0 sanction points	Level One Violation - 0.5 sanction point for each violation	Level Two Violation - 1.0 sanction point for each violation	Level Three Violation - 3.0 sanction points for each violation
For plagiarism/copying in work done for a course, if the plagiarized/copied material constitutes less than 10% of the assignment (first offense only).	Copying from or viewing another student's work during an examination.	Buying, selling or otherwise obtaining or providing information about an examination not yet administered.	Altering grades or official records.
Unauthorized collaboration on homework assignments constituting less than 10% of the assignment (first offense only).	Using any materials or resources that are not authorized by the instructor for use during an examination.	Substituting for another person or permitting any other person to substitute for oneself to take an examination.	Falsifying or signing another person's name on any academically-related University form or document.
	Collaborating during an examination with any other person by giving or receiving information without specific permission of the instructor.	Submitting as one's own any work prepared totally or in large measure by another OR plagiarizing, in work submitted for degree requirements other than course work (e.g. honors thesis, master's thesis, master's comprehensive exam, doctoral qualifying exam, doctoral candidacy exam, doctoral dissertation), that is, the offering as one's own work, the words, ideas, or arguments of another person or using the work of another without appropriate attribution by quotation, reference, or footnote. Plagiarism occurs both when the words of another (in print, electronic, or any other medium) are reproduced without acknowledgement and when the ideas or arguments of another are paraphrased in such a way as to lead the reader to believe that they originated with the writer. It is not sufficient to provide a citation if the words of another have been reproduced – this also requires quotation marks. It is the responsibility of all University students to understand the methods of proper attribution and to apply those principles in all materials submitted.	Sabotaging another student's work.
	Facilitating or aiding in any act of academic dishonesty.	Submitting altered or falsified data (in work completed for a class assignment).	Submitting altered or falsified data (for work submitted for requirements outside of the classroom (e.g. honor's thesis; master's thesis; doctoral dissertation; candidacy exam; qualifying exam; dissertation defense).

	Collaborating on laboratory work, or other assigned work when instructed to work independently		Also applies to the third Level Two violation (would apply 3.0 sanction points instead of 2.0 sanction points).
	Submitting, without specific permission of the instructor, work that has been previously offered by the same student for credit in another course.
	Falsification of attendance and/or participation.
	Submitting as one's own any theme, report, term paper, essay, computer program, speech, painting, drawing, sculpture, or other written or creative work or project of any nature prepared totally or in large measure by another /plagiarizing, in work completed for a class assignment, when that copying/plagiarizing constitutes less than 10% of the assignment and is a second offense, or when that copying/plagiarizing constitutes 10% or more of the assignment. Submitting as one's own work or plagiarizing is the offering as one's own work, the words, ideas, or arguments of another person or using the work of another without appropriate attribution by quotation, reference, or footnote. Plagiarism occurs both when the words of another (in print, electronic, or any other medium) are reproduced without acknowledgement and when the ideas or arguments of another are paraphrased in such a way as to lead the reader to believe that they originated with the writer. It is not sufficient to provide a citation if the words of another have been reproduced – this also requires quotation marks. It is the responsibility of all University students to understand the methods of proper attribution and to apply those principles in all materials submitted.
	Unauthorized collaboration on homework assignments constituting 10% or more of the assignment, or less than 10% of the assignment on a second offense.
	Selling or distributing class notes or other instructor materials in violation of an instructor's intellectual property rights.

This resource is copyrighted using the Creative Commons 4.0 License.